

C.I.M.

Teaching the Art and Science of Integrative Medicine to Health Care Professionals

Web Conference

INTEGRATIVE MEDICINE CARDIOLOGY: PART III

- The risk factors and pathophysiology of endothelial dysfunction are discussed in detail.
- Integrative medicine approach to cardiovascular health is explored in detail, which includes: Nutritional medicine, physical medicine and the mind-body connection.
- Specific Nutraceutical recommendations for dyslipidemia, hypertension, and blood hyperviscosity syndrome.

January 17, 2017

Live Web Conference

INTEGRATIVE & FUNCTIONAL MEDICINE APPROACH TO BLOOD CHEMISTRY INTERPRETATION

What Integrative Medicine Clinicians Need to Know About Basic & Advanced Laboratory Diagnostic Testing

February 18-19, 2017

Houston, Texas

View and share previous recordings and information by following the links below...

- ▶ Webinar # 1: What is integrative and functional medicine and how to add this field of medicine to your practice: A place to start (case history is presented)
- ▶ Webinar # 2: Integrative and Functional Medicine Patient History and Physical examination: How to get to the root cause of chronic disease.
- ▶ Webinar # 3: Physiology and Pathophysiology of Inflammation (Part I): A must know.
- ▶ Webinar # 4: Physiology and Pathophysiology of Inflammation (Part II): A must know.
- ▶ Webinar # 5: Integrative Medicine Cardiology: Part I
- ▶ Webinar # 6: Integrative Medicine Cardiology: Part II

Contact

Catherine Sodano
College of Integrative Medicine
877-841-7241
info@collegeofintegrativemedicine.org
www.CollegeofIntegrativeMedicine.org